

How often do you check in with your teen? Plus, cookies!

This Idaho teen already owns her own business, and it's delicious

Boise teen Isabelle turned her passion for baking into a business that brings joy to cookie lovers all over the Treasure Valley. Watch our newest #FindTheirPassion video to learn how focusing on a passion helped Isabelle find sweet success.

Watch Isabelle's story

---

Fort Hall teens earn a trip to DC conference about community building

Shana Atcitty is motivated to make her world a better place. The Idaho teen is one of four Fort Hall students whose winning essays earned them a trip to a national conference focusing on Native youth leadership and community development.

Read about Shana and the Fort Hall Youth Council

---

How often do you check in?

The after-school hours of 3-6 pm are among the most dangerous for teens, sometimes even more so than when they're out on Friday and Saturday nights. Make it a habit to stay in touch!

Get check-in tips

---

Think you'd know if your child drinks?

Almost 1 in 3 Idaho high school students drinks—and many parents have no idea. What if yours was the 1? Watch our quick video to learn the risks of underage drinking and how you can help prevent your child from engaging.

Watch video